Chapter 37

Plate Numbers 28000-28999

Plate number 28000 was assigned in December, 1964, to the 5c Washington sheet stamp of 1963. The section ended in February, 1967, when plate 28999 was assigned to the 5c Erie Canal commemorative stamp. Two major events occurred in this section. The first was the introduction of the Prominent Americans series, or the seventh Bureau series. The second event was the introduction of a technological process at the BEP where offset lithography was combined with intaglio printing. This process began with the Homemakers stamp which had printing plates in the 27000 section. But the Homemakers offset plates were not assigned numbers in the postage stamp series. The 5c Stevenson stamp of 1965 was the first stamp in over 40 years to have offset plates assigned in the postage stamp plate number series. A decision was made to place the offset plate numbers on the margins of the sheet so they would be trimmed during production of post office panes. Therefore, the offset plate numbers are not available unless a production error causes a miscut and this did happen on rare occasions. I wish the offset numbers had been printed on the issued panes. It would have made for a merry chase for combinations and would have given collectors many more plate numbers to accumulate.

The Liberty series began to approach the end with the announcement of a new regular issue. Only 19 plates were assigned to the 1954 series stamps with 136 numbers assigned to the 1963 stamps. 126 plates went to press with 28 unreported coils. The 4c Lincoln sheet plates 28006 and 28007 had only 6553 impressions and are known only precancelled. These plates are scarce. Since most of these plates are booklets and coils, locating a lot of these late Liberty series plates is a tough task.

The seventh Bureau series made an appearance in 1965 after an 11 year span for the sixth Bureau series. It is interesting to note that there was a new 5c Washington sheet and coil stamp for the new 1965 issue, but the 1963 Washington design was retained for the booklet stamps. 181 plates in the new series were assigned with 177 to press. 36 coil plates are unreported. The sheet plates are easy to locate and the coils, as usual, are difficult. The BEP was continuing experiments with tagging stamps and many of these plates are available both with and without the luminescent tagging. Some plates are common one way and scarce the other way. I never could get excited about the tagging since it is mostly invisible without special lighting equipment.

The 5c flag definitive production continued with 19 plates to press with none being really difficult.

As with the 27000 section, most of the news and action concerned the commemorative plates. The new printing technique involved combining intaglio and offset printing. Starting with the 1965 5c Stevenson stamp, the offset plates were assigned numbers in the postage stamp plate number series but the numbers were trimmed from the finished product. This meant there are a lot more gaps in the consecutive number series for collectors. The 5c Stevenson stamp used 9 intaglio plates and 32 offset plates. If these offset plates had been available to collectors, there would have been some real rarities since some of these plates had very few impressions.

The BEP still made frequent use of multiple intaglio passes since many of the stamps in this section had two plate numbers. Collectors were excited by the 1965 Florida stamp which required three intaglio passes. This was the first stamp to have three plate numbers on the post office pane! The BEP took care to avoid massive combinations and rarities and the Florida stamp ended up with 32 combinations. There could have been 64 combinations since 4 plates of each 'color' were used.

The 1964 Register and Vote stamp made a return appearance with 24 plates. Some of these plates had relatively few impressions, but they were avidly collected and none is very scarce. The 6th International Philatelic Exhibition had a 5c stamp and 5c souvenir sheet printed using the intaglio and offset method. The SIPEX souvenir sheets had the plate numbers trimmed off but production errors did occur. As a result, all four intaglio plates and 2 of the offset plates of the souvenir sheet have been found. These 6 plates are real rarities. 575 commemorative plates were assigned in the 28000 section. 427 went to press and 333 are available to collectors. All but the 6 SIPEX souvenir sheet plates are easily available.

Two special delivery and 48 air mail plates went to press and there are no problems with these except for two unreported 8c Capitol coil plates.

The 28000 section saw 799 plates to press with 705 available to collectors. With just 66 unreported plates, this section is the easiest section since the 25000 section. The 705 plates available to collectors is the fewest of any section so far. Will this trend continue? Inquiring minds may want to read the next chapter for insights into this puzzle but they will have wait an additional chapter because we next will look at the plate numbers of the Liberty series.
